ENGLEBRIGHT, SHELDON, HECKER WIN IN PRIMARY

Truckee, Soda Springs Voters Give Majority To Englebright, Warren

With all but five of the county's precincts complete, Ward Sheldon led Vernon Stoll for the office of District Attorney by more than 1000 votes, to assure his election.

Elma Hecker won at the primary over three opponents, James Henwood, Joseph Henwood and Joseph Martin and will retain her post as county treasurer and tax collector.

In the coroner's race, Andy Holmes was defeated by Alvah H. Hooper of Grass Valley with a vote of 2654 to 2033.

Youthful Theodore Koehler is the new public administrator, having defeated the incumbent, Lila Champion.

Although he piled up the largest number of votes of the three in the race, Sheriff C. J. Tobiassen must go to the finals in November against Richard Hoskins. Fred Williford was eliminated at the primary.

Englebright Wins

Congressman Harry L. Englebright led on both tickets with sufficient precincts reported to assure reelection as representative from the 2nd California District. He outran R. R. Henderson, Frank G. Finnegan and Mrs. Gertrude Clark.

Olson vs. Warren

Although Gov. Olson received sufficient democratic votes to assure him a spot on the November ballot, Earl Warren received more votes on both tickets than the incumbent.

There were 374 votes cast in the two Truckee and the Soda Springs precincts. Of these 260 were democrats, 107 republicans and six were non partisan.

It represented a little more than a 50 per cent vote, although there are many absentee voters yet to be heard from.

The total vote in the three precincts here showed the following results in the contests:

ELECTION HIGHLIGHTS

An awe inspiring phenomena of an eclipse of the moon was clearly visible to the people on the streets of Truckee who were awaiting the election returns Tuesday night.

Justice of the Peace C. E. Smith was returned to office unopposed and with the largest complimentary vote of all candidates. He polled 314 votes in the three local precincts.

As usual there were several write-ins on various offices. Frank Titus polled 10 votes for democratic central committeeman, to have the biggest write in vote.

There were 143 votes cast in local precinct No. 2 and 193 in No. 1.

N. F. Dolley lacked four votes of winning at the primary over Charles Pierce and Frank Titus, with absentee votes still to be counted.

One soldier was elected to office here when Pvt. Doug Barrett was accorded 70 of 107 republican votes cast for county committeeman. C. Edmunds, democratic committeeman polled 178 of the democrats' 260 votes. Both were uncontested offices.

County Clerk R. N. McCormack, who incidentally, was given a fine complimentary vote, reports applications were made for 76% absentee ballots, the largest number in the history of the county. These are counted a week after the regular election and may effect some races.

AUBURN, Aug. 27.— District Attorney Lowell Sparks and Sheriff Charles Silva seemed certain of reelection on the basis of complete returns from 26 precincts in Placer County. Each led by over 1500 votes.

RATIONING ORDER RESTRICTS TIRES

A recent rationing bulletin issued to County Coordinator Jack Osborne warns that rubber shortage is not of the future but is here.

The Meadow Lake War Price and Rationing Board has been positively instructed that tire purchase certificates must go to equipment vital to war effort rather than to applicants who, though eligible, are not closely connected with war production.

Operators who overload, speed and use other practices contributing to excessive tire wear and those who run tires until they become "bald" will be denied applications for recaps or new tires. Equipment must be tied up, Osborne warns, if necessary so that recapping can be done before carcasses are worn beyond recapping. Truck operators are warned that new tires will be granted only in proportion of one new truck tire to two recap truck tires. Even this is only a temporary arrangement and at any time necessities arising out of war effort may eliminate the use of anything but recaps.

by WALTER M. BARRETT

Truckee lost one its most beloved and valuable citizens last week when death claimed "Dutch" Hart. Although a resident here for only a comparatively short time, Dutch endeared himself to scores through his unselfish devotion to his neighbors and family. It was a loss which can never be replaced and the entire community will grieve with his fine family over the passing of a good friend and devoted father and husband.

Another loss to the community, one which we sincerely hope will be only temporary, occurred this week when Mrs. Catherin Rossarini and her mother left to reside in Oakland. We need people like Rossarinis here and their departure is regretted. We wish them success and hppiness in their new home.

We couldn't suppress a bit of personal inflation this week when we learned that "My Place in the Sun" Doug, had been accepted into the United States Air Force, the highest branch in the service. We are confident he will succeed to be a credit to his country and home.

The 1942 Primary Election today is history. Many are disappointed but the majority are pleased with the outcome. It was unfortunate in some instances that both candidates couldn't be elected but that's the way it goes in politics. If the elected men and women fail in your expectations they may be replaced in four years. In the meantime get behind them and help and they will do a better job for all of us. Our heartiest congratulations to the winners. Remember the people elected you, don't let them down.

Garage Damaged By Fire Last Friday

Starting from undetermined cause, an incipient fire last Friday afternoon damaged the garage at the R. L. Gregory home. The family car was pulled to safety and was not damaged.

William Rikard, who was doing a job of politics near the garage, saw the smouldering quilt in the corner of the buliding and pulled it away, preventing a more damaging blaze. He burned his eyelashes and brows in the effort.

The fire department prevented the fire from spreading to adjoining structures.

Deer Hunting In This Area Still Being Considered

Areas Being Studied For Action By State Fish, and Game Group

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 27.— Machinery was set in motion today to close all hunting after September 1 in all California areas where forest fire hazards exist. Arrangements are being made for a special meeting of the state fish and game commission to act upon the hunting ban requested this week by Lt. Gen. John L. DeWitt, western defense commander.

DeWitt's message was sent to Gov. Culbert L. Olson asking that "necessary action be taken to close hunting in all areas where definite forest fire hazards exist."

The general's telegram made no mention of any particular hunting seasons, or areas to be affected by the order, but said a report on forest fire anger regions will be forwarded to the fish and game commission and the governor by the office of civilian defense advisory committee on forestry problems.

Fish and game officials here expressed doubt whether the new closing order will have a material effect on the duck season because forest fire danger normally slackens by that time. Most areas in the state are already closed to deer hunting.

State Patrolman Bill Lowe who was on duty took after the trio and when he nearly caught them in Truckee, they left the car, belonging to George Southworth of Reno and fled on foot. A shot fired over their heads failed to slow them and they evaded officers and escaped in the darkness.

Local and military officers aided in the fruitless search for several hours.

Local Voter Hasn't Missed Since Garfield

* * * *

Frank S. Powell, who recently celebrated his 85th birhtday and who will, with Mrs. Powell, obtheir 60th wedding anniversary on August 30, has what we believe a local record for voting.

Mr. Powell cast his first vote for President Garfield 64 years ago where he was 21 and hasn't missed a general or primary election since.

Asked if he ever voted more than once at any one election, Mr. Powell replied: "I've never been caught at it."

MY PLACE IN THE SUN

By PVT. DOUG BARRETT

Well, friends, here I am, just in from lunch in the Army Air Corps. Yep, it surprised me as much as it probably does you. We spent the whole morning listening to lectures on army procedure, health and general topics. This air corps is really the finest darned branch of the service. If you don't believe me, believe the army. If you transfer from one branch to another you have to transfer to a higher ranking outfit and the air corps is the only branch you can't transfer from because there is nothing higher.

In civilian life we used to hear a lot about tough officers and noncoms whose sole ambition in life is to make a rookie's (jeep's) life miserable. So far I have yet to meet a single unreasonable officer of any grade. If you obey regulations and don't crab about minor inconveniences you'll get along and do yourself and the army a lot of good.

Speaking of inconveniences, I'm now stationed at Camp Kearns, Utah near Salt Lake. It's a new camp and those of us here now are pioneers—the men to give the camp its reputation and if everybody feels as I do, this is going to be a camp to be proud of. True, today it isn't much to look at but then when Brigham Young said, "This is the place" Salt Lake City wasn't much to look at but the will to win made it the finest city in the United States. This Utah, where miracles happen every day.

I don't want to keep this all Doug Barrett, so if any of you folks with sons or friends in the service will give my pop—the editor—the dope he'll forward it to me and I'll try to get in touch with him and write him up once in a while..... If any of you folks don't hear from me personally for a while, please don't think I'm thoughtless or forgetful of my friends. Bear with me 'cause I'm one busy soldier for a few weeks.

Local Friends Attend Last Rites Held Monday In Reno

Scores of local friends went to Reno Monday afternoon to attend the last rites for Harold M. Hart, 41, Truckee businessman and civic leader, who died in a Reno hospital Thursday night following a brief illness.
a sufferer all his life.

Hart came her with his family, a wife and daughter, Renee, who survive over three years ago and purchased the Truckee Bakery. The family soon became established and were among the leaders in the district's social and civic life. A year ago they purchased their own home.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Hart were fond of children and "Dutch" as he was known by his legion of friends, was instrumental in organizing the Junior Game Patrol which he headed for a long time before ill health and the stress of business forced him to give it up. The bakery was a popular gathering place for the youngsters of town and they always found a friend and true companion in Hart.

He was an officer in the Truckee Lions Club and always could be counted upon to lead in any movement beneficial to the district.

He was a native of Nevada and had been a life-long resident of that state, operating bakeries in Reno before coming to Truckee.

Rationing Stamp Will Provide For Larger Allotment Of Sugar

Press dispatches from the office of price administration in Washington announce that sugar ration stamp No. 8 will be good for five pounds of sugar in the ten-week period beginning August 23 and ending October 31.

While not changing the basic ration of one half pound per week per person, it will enable consumers to make purchases in larger units and facilitate the disposal of five, ten and 25 pound packages.

Packages of these sizes were put up before the start of rationing and processors have had difficulty marketing any substantial part of them because stamps to date have been good for one or two pound packages

Unless this sugar is sold, the OPA said, it would have to be repacked causing an undesirable waste of labor and materials.

DISASTER GROUP AT TAHOE ORGANIZES FOR WAR RELIEF

TAHOE CITY, Aug. 27.— Mrs. Marie Henry, chairman of the Disaster Preparedness and Relief Post of Tahoe has announced her assistants as Mrs. Myrtle Gallinger and Mrs. Bliss Hinkle. The latter will have charge of the registration in time of disaster of all the injured.

Mrs. Henry this week made known details of the organization forrelief and names of her helpers.

The main auditorium of the Tanoe Lake school will serve as a general assembly room in which cots could easily be placed for a large number of victims. The school house was chosen for obvious reasons—plenty of water, no stairs and furnace heat available as well as various other fetures necessary for the caring of patients.

The elementary grade room will be under the charge of Mrs. June Dyer the teacher who wil care for children. Jay Schumacher, a teacher and Mrs. Stella Watson would serve as her assistants.

The grammar grade room of Mrs. Gallinger would be in charge of Mrs. Ruth Mayfield who would have as assistants Mrs. Martha Burns, Miss Florence Vernon, Mrs. Lson Dockham and Mrs. W. A. Simmonds.

In the main auditorium, Mrs. Drana Werner would have charge and assisted by Mrs. Ethel Vernon, Hazel Sweeney, Josephine Crane and Jean McIver.

The present high schcool classroom would be reserved for those more critical cases which required rest and quiet annd would be staffed by Mrs. A. C. Stoddard annd Mrs. Jess Sisk.

The kitchen would be in the capable hands of Mrs. Nora Hevel who would prepare the food. Mrs. Fenton Ball would serve as her assistant. Willis Hevel is maintenance general in charge of furnace and hot water supply.

In the Bittencourt Tract, Mrs Burns and Miss Florence Vernon have made arrangements for the swift collection of sheets, pillowcases hot water bottles and flashlights in any emergency and Mrs. Glenn Sweney has been appointed for the same task on Main street.

Dick Hinckle and his bicycle will stand by for emergency errands.

In any disaster occurring in the mountains or away from town, Mrs. Henry and Mrs. Lee Garner will accompany the party of Rangers who would go to bring aid. Equipment for this work is kept at Tahoe

In case of serious disaster, Auburn would send additional aid.

Mrs. Henry has also lined up for possible use as ambulances, station wagons and pickups. Those available at this time belong to Weller Atherton, Turnages, Carl Bechdolt, Jr. and Sr., Crandalls and Henry's garage.

Mrs. Henry has a list of the most important necessities still needed and anyone wishing to aid should call her at Tahoe City 70.

THE OLD SWIMMING HOLE

Statistics on drownings show that "the old swimming holes" which are particularly popular this summer because of the difficulties of getting to supervised bathing beaches, are by far the most dangerous places to bathe.

This doesn't mean that youngsters should be kept away from the swimming holes, but it is advisable for parents to investigate the places where their children swim, find out if the depth and the currents are dangerous, see if the bottom contains big rocks or broken trees and determine whether there are other reasons why swimming there might prove foolhardy.

Another advisable precaution is to make sure that youngsters who are not strong swimmers never go, even to the safe places, unless accompanied by at least one good swimmer. And even the best of swimmers are taking a chance if they go in the water alone and unwatched.

Each summer about 5,500 people are drowned while swimming and, in the majority of cases the drownings could have been prevented by simple precautions.

PLENTY OF MEAT

A temporary shortage of beef in some of the butcher shops isn't deserving of much worry during these times.

In many nations today a piece of meat—any kind of meat—is a real luxury. But in America it is front page news when one or two lines of the ample selection in the butcher shops is slightly curbed.

And on beef we don't even have to worry about the price soaring because of the shortage. For beef prices are under strict control of the Office of Price Administration. If a butcher charges more for beef than he did in March he is subject to legal penalties.

It is true that our nation is now feeding an armed force of 4,000,000 men, is supplying vast quantities of food for the armies and civilians of other nations and is storing food away for future emergencies. But production figures show we can handle the whole job and still feed our own people better than those of any other nation are fed even in normal times.

SIX INCH SERMON

REV. ROBERT H. HARPER

Jacob's Vision of God.

Lesson for August 23: Genesis 28: 10-22.

Golden Text: Genesis 28: 15.

After Jacob secured Esau's birthright and deceived his father, he departed for the ancestral home of his mother. Ostensibly he went to take a wife in Haran but in reality he was fleeing from the wrath of his brother.

The hymn, "Nearer My God to Thee," follows the experiences of Jacob at Bethel. The ladder he saw in his dream may be a beautiful symbol of prayer—angels ascend to bear petitions and other angels descend with rich answers. Above the ladder Jacob saw God and heard his promises of blessings to him and his descendants.

When Jacob arose he realized that God was in that place. He may have fancied that he had fled from God when he fled from Esau. But God was there and God is everywhere. Profoundly impressed that God was mindful of him, he consecrated the place and named it Bethel. Where the ladder of his dream had rested he lifted the pillar of sacrifice.

Jacob's vow shows that early in history the tithe was recognized as belonging to God. But the doctrine of stewardship, which Jesus taught, shows that all we have belongs to God.

It cannot be claimed that Jacob's life, after his vision of God, was without faults. But certainly at Bethel he learned to pray. And throughout his long life he was ever influenced by the fact that in youth he had found the house of God and the gate of heaven.

Faithful Service

ABUNDANT GRATITUDE is due to our soldiers who leave all and go to defend country, home, freedom, Christianity. In their unselfish service, they stand ready to give the "full measure of devotion" for a right ideal.

The Apostle Paul was a great soldier who gave his earthly all for the cause of Christ. In his second epistle to Timothy he said (2:3, 4): "Endure hardness, as a good soldier of Jesus Christ. No man that warreth entangleth himself with the affairs of this life; that he may please him who hath chosen him to be a soldier." Now, as always, each one is chosen to be a soldier of Christ, to win the battle for freedom and peace for himself and for all mankind.

Mary Baker Eddy, the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science, in a message to The Mother Church in 1898, wrote as follows (Christian Science versus Pantheism, p. 14): "In your peaceful homes remember our brave soldiers, whether in camp or in battle. Oh, may their love of country, and their faithful service thereof, be unto them life-preservers! May the divine Love succor and protect them." Today these words inspire the grateful heart to uphold with justice, good works, and humble, consecrated prayers, "our brave soldiers, whether in camp or in battle."

In these perilous times shall not each one answer the call and obey the demands of our great Master, Christ Jesus, who said (John 8:31, 32), "If ye continue in my word, . . . ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free"? Continuing in his word, we escape the entanglements of sin, sensuality, and intemperate habits, which would weaken, confuse, and destroy our ability to be good soldiers of Truth.

The battle for freedom is being waged primarily in individual thinking, where the hordes of evil suggestions and material beliefs that seek to destroy our peace and progress are put to flight and made void by spiritual ideas which come from the all-governing, infinite Mind. These ideas are intelligent, loving, perfect, and complete. They reflect the permanence and power of eternal good; they are the host of angels that guide, protect, and comfort.

A young soldier who was talking with a friend said he was not afraid of battle, whether on land, in the air, on the sea, or under the sea; but he was troubled by the thought of the temptations and inducements to do wrong which present themselves. . . .

As children of the one Father-Mother God, all men possess unalterable spiritual independence and poise. These divinely mental states cannot be shaken, subdued, or obscured. They include neither self-righteousness nor condemnation; but shine through the mists of intolerance, personal domination, arrogance, and ridicule, revealing the perfect man. Those who perform faithful service, firm in their spiritual independence, often experience in return expressions of good fellowship, brotherly love, and appreciation of qualities of character that are spiritual and substantial.

A true follower of Christ, Truth, is law-abiding. He follows the course that, from a human standpoint, is nearest right; that will bring the greatest good to the greatest number. And right motives are rewarded in strength and freedom.

When the commandments of Jesus are here and now obeyed, then will there be peace on earth. And all can obey commands such as these (Matthew 7:12): "Whatsoever ye would that men should do to you, do ye even so to them;" and (John 15:12), "This is my commandment, That ye love one another, as I have loved you."

TAHOE SAILOR NOT HEARD FROM SINCE WRITING IN JULY

TAHOE CITY, Aug. 27.— Harold Stark, first class pay officer on one of Uncle Sam's big submarines, remains unheard from since last July. He is 26 and has been in the service for six years having recently been transferred from the east to the west coast. He is well known at Tahoe where he lived for two years. His wife and tow children are now residing with his parents at Tahoe. Officer Stark possesses an enviable record and many decorations for exceptional heroism and the family is rightfully proud of his record.

Word has been received here of the death, a month or more ago, in Hollywood of Frederick Klamp who spent mny summers at his lovely lakeside home in the Tahoe Park district. He leaves a wife.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Yeakel of Lake Forest recently had occasion to be a little proud when their nephew, Jack Roger Himes, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe C. Himes of Piedmont, distinguished himself in action. The young man in June married lovely Miss Janette Whitaker of Cheyenne and shortly thereafter was called back into active service having been previously wounded. Himes, aviation mechanic's mate and pilot in the Naval Air Firces, recently was a member of o bomber crew which flew over a Japanese cruiser in the Pacific. While under machine gun fire from Jap fighter planes, a direct hit was scored on the vessel. Several members of his crew were injured and Himes took over the controls and set the plne down near a U. S. destroyer which rescued them.

Tahoe Schools

Children of the Tahoe Lake school consider themselves fortunate in having the undivided attention of their orchestra instructor Otto Fox at least until September 10 when he will return to Auburn. At present each pupil receives two individual lessons weekly and four full days a week of orchestra instruction. Approximately 18 students are enrolled in the musical education.

A recent query by Mrs. Bliss Hinkle to Mrs. Beth Lukens of Auburn brings the information that if enough interest in shown in the nutrition and canteen courses here it is possible that the courses may be given through the adult educational classes of the Placer Union High schcol of through the Red Cross. At least ten ladies must guarantee to take the full course or it cannot be given. Anyone interested in the project should call Mrs. Hinkle at Tahoe City 84 or at her home, 81. The course treats of vitamins, properly balanced meals and nutritional values in general, information already possesssed by many practical-minded home makers.

Mr. andn Mrs. A. Tonelli and son guests at Schumacher's Tahoma lodge Friday afternoon gave a successful demonstration of a gas model airplane on the grounds of the Tahoe Lake school before the entire student body and a few visitors. It was Mr. Tonelli's first attempt to build and fly a gas model and the experiment was greatly enjoyed by the children. The exhibition was similar to those frequently shown the city children at Golden Gte Park in San Francisco

Elwyn Gregory, superintendent of Placer county schools, was a visitor at the school Friday afternoon. He was enroute to Auburn from Zephyr Cove where he attended the summer school session for teachers.

The Junior Red Cross members are this week practicing their carrying methods depicted in an educational film shown last Friday at the school auditorium.

Not this time!

Many veterans of the last A. E. F. will remember how they traveled to the eastern seaboard in coaches, and through France in tiny freight cars with the legend "40 Hommes, 8 Chevaux" painted on the side. "Forty men, eight horses."

It's not that way this time. Now the U. S. railroads are moving a great many more of our fighting men in sleeping cars than in the last war. And these men have clean bedding and porter service.

This is one of the reasons why you may not always be able to get just the Pullman accommodations you want.

So far the difficulties of wartime travel here have been very minor ones, compared with other warring nations. We can all be thankful that we are living in a country where these problems can be worked out by sympathetic cooperation between a railroad and its customers, and not by the orders of a dictator.

The War Bonds you buy now will help pay for a new home after the war.

DALE CARNEGIE

Author of "How to Win Friends and Influence People"

A LITTLE TACT GOES A LONG WAY

When Jack London married, he took his wife to live with his mother, Flora. Flora had always taken care of her son, cooked for him and looked after him. Now she bitterly resented the fact that he had brought a strange woman into the house who insisted on doing for him—a woman who had already, as she felt, taken her place in her son's affections. The mother's jealous wrath broke into a storm of neurasthenia. She quarreled constantly with Bessie, the wife. The angry voices of these two bickering women reverberated throughout the house, and disturbed Jack so that he would have to stop working on his novels and dash down the street to get his step-sister to come up and stop the snarling and snapping.

How could these distressing scenes have been avoided? Here is the answer: Twenty years after Jack London's death, his wife, Bessie London, confessed to Irving Stone, Jack London's biographer, that she should have handled her mother-in-law differently. "I should have catered to Flora," she confessed, "and petted her and made her the boss, and we would have gotten along fine. But I was young and wanted to do things for my husband. So we clashed."

Close your eyes for a moment and ask yourself if there isn't an idea there that you can use. Are you having trouble with an older person in your home, or with a more experienced person at the office? If so, why not profit by Bessie London's mistake? Why don't you do now what she wishes she had done twenty years ago? Why not pet the older person and let him or her be the boss? Remember, you will be old yourself some day; and, when you are, you won't want the younger generation crowding you out and neglecting you and ordering you about. Remember, fools quarrel and bicker and insist on having their way. Why don't you rise above fools? Why don't you use tact, diplomacy and finesse?—tools that fools never use. It will be a lot more fun. It will win friends for you; you will gain influence; and, deep down inside of you, you will take pride in the fact that you know how to deal adroitly with people.

A few years ago, in Peking, China, I met Douglas Carr who was traveling around the world on less than forty dollars per month. He told me that one of the most valuable lessons he ever learned, was this: As a young lad of ten or eleven, he swaggered home from school boasting about his brilliant examination marks. His father listened, said nothing, then reached into his pocket for a card and on it wrote these words: "Let him that thinketh he standeth, take heed lest he fall."

Young Douglas was so impressed that he kept the card for years as a book mark.

"It was the best dose of medicine I ever took," he declared, "and how I needed it!"

Politically Speaking

by JOHN W. DUNLAP
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 27.—(UP)—One of the final incidents in the primary campaign was the levelling of serious charges against the newspapers of California by Governor Culbert Olson in a statewide radio address.

His accusations cannot be taken lightly when he leads off with this statement:

"Efforts to discredit a successful Democratic state administration not by facts, but by sinister innuendo, fraud, misrepresentation and false publicity in Republican newspapers, characterizes the Republican campaign for votes in a desparate effort to fool Democrats."

Then, by name, he addressed:

"William Randolph Hearst, Lord of San Simeon, with your well-known political record, your subversive Los Angeles and San Francisco daily newspapers, and your Wall Street ownership."

"Harry Chandler, enemy of the working classes, with your Los Angeles Times, nd your long record of opposition to every step made in the progress of California for the welfare of its people.

"George Cameron, with your Republican San Francisco Chronicle.

"Joe Knowland, with your Oakland Tribune devoted to the service of the Republican party.

"Roy Howard(non-resident owner of the Republican San Franicsco News."

Then he continued his accusations declaring "that you have no purpose to accurately report official acts of news value and public interest if they happen to reflect credit on a Democratic administration. It is well known, also, that you are willing to fill your columns with half truths and innuendos which can well mislead your readers and inspire prejudices that will influence their votes."

The governor charged further that Republican news was printed without "permitting a word in refutation to find a place in your columns...." that state council of defense news was misrepresented for political purposes, that wire service stories of the governor's acts were disregarded, etc.

The governor indicated he was referring particularly to the papers he named but his general attitude extends to the press generally. A majority of California newspapers are opposing his candidacy and it is not surprising that he is irked by unfriendly editors. Whether treatment of news is unfair to his administration is a moot question. Most newspapers, particularly the small dailies and weeklies, are proud that they represent an unbiased and fair news report, while reserving the privilege of editorial comment against or in favor of issues or candidates.

Olson directed himself primarly to the metropolitan press on the Republican side of the fence, although he may fully realize that the newspaper business as a whole resents any attack upon its membership. Any business enterprise has its faults but accusing newspapers of such flagrant and all-inclusive sins as Olson enumerated conceivably might boomerang in the future.

—V—

Another incident involving newspapers was writein canndidacy of George Dawley, editor and publisher of the Biggs News, for the statae assembly.

Dawley, a Republican, was irked by the unusual circumstance which found Albert M. King, Oroville Democrat, the only candidate for the assembly. It is common for a strong incumbent to be unopposed at the primary but it is almost impossible for a non-incumbent to escape opposition.

So Dawley initiated himself as a writein candidate on both tickets just a few days before election. He has published the Biggs News since 1932 and has many friends in Butte, Sutter and Yuba counties, his home district.

That Extra Something!

...You can spot it every time

OF COURSE the Armed Services get Coca-Cola just as they get all the good things that are wanted and needed to do each job.

Coca-Cola has that extra something to do the job of complete refreshment. It has a taste that's uniquely satisfying—a quality that's unmistakable. And there's a reason. Coca-Cola holds the original secret of unique refreshment ... a finished art in its making ... a blend of wholesome flavors that can't be copied.

The only thing like Coca-Cola is another Coca-Cola ... delicious taste with no cloying after-taste ... refreshment in the finest form.

It's natural for popular names to acquire friendly abbreviations. That's why you hear Coca-Cola called Coke. Coca-Cola and Coke mean the same thing ... the real thing ... "a single thing coming from a single source, and well known to the community".

At U. S. O. recreation centers, you'll see how happily ice-cold Coca-Cola "cuts in" to make "intermission" a refreshing moment on the sunny side of things. It makes for morale.

The best is always the better buy!

DECORATIONS GIVEN TAHOE AIR WATCH

TAHOE CITY, Aug. 27.— The public was invited last week to a meeting held in Community hll where John Burns, chairman of the local civilian defense committee gave a report on his various committees. He later turned the meeting over to Clarence Vernon, chief observer for the Ground Observation Corps for presentation of service armbands to seven Tahoe citizens who have put in 100 hours or more on watch.

These men and women included Vernon, John Burns, A. M. HenryJ, A. M. Anderson, Carl Bechdolt, Jr. Roy Stark and Mrs. A. M. Henry. Mrs. Buelah Carnell would have received the badge, having put in the required number of hours, but the family has moved from Tahoe and her acceptance is now impossible.

Sergeant J. M. Marshall and an associate, M. C. Smith addressed the meeting and congratulated the seven arm band recipients. Both are members of the newly organized group which has been taken over by the army. Marshall expects to be stationed where he can visit this area twice a month. He complimented the district upon its fine record. He considered it one of the most important branches of volunteer service.

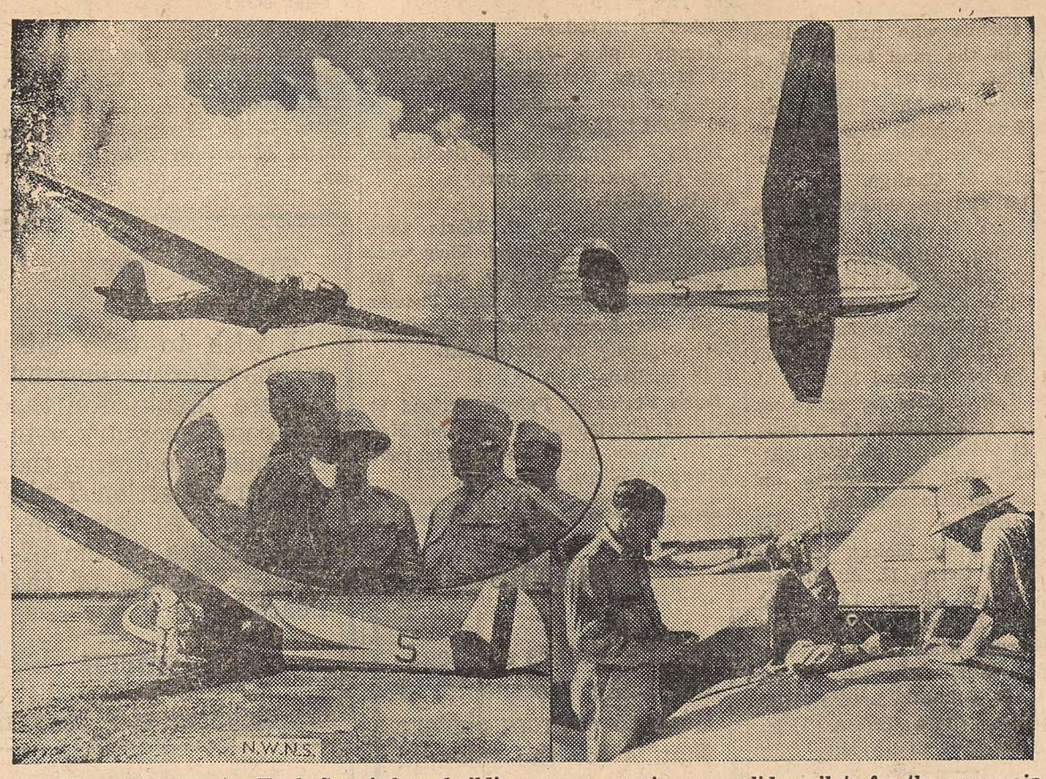
U. S. Trains Glider Pilots, Builds Potent Air Arm



All over the country Uncle Sam is busy building up a new air arm—glider pilots for the army air forces. Glider schools are turning this former expensive sport into a potent force in aerial warfare. These pictures from Mobile, Ala., show the operation of Southeast Training Center school located near that city. Top views show two of the small two-place gliders soaring gracefully (and silently) after having been released by their tow plane. Inset shows Maj. Gen. Barton K. Yount, commanding general of the AAF flying training command, conversing with officers and men during an inspection tour of the base. At lower right General Yount takes notes after a flight. Considerable importance is being attached daily to this development of air fighting. U. S. glider pilots are getting special attention, as they must be able to match the tactics of the Nazis, who have long employed this method of aerial combat.

LIGHT CARS ARE FROZEN BY GOVT

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 27.—(UP)— Gov. Culbert Olson has been advised by Price Administrator Leon Henderson that effective Aug. 18 and holding until Oct. 31 all sales and deliveries of 1942 model four-door, hard-top Ford, Chevrolet and Plymouth sedans on which the price list is shown as $1000 or less, are "frozen."

Henderson said that deliveries of these models should not be made even to certificate holders. All cars which have been driven over 1000 miles or cars which on August 18 had been held for use and not for resale are not affected by the order.

At Henderson's request, Governor Olson advised the department of motor vehicles not to register any of these automobiles not previously registered for use unless the applicant can show that the sale and delivery were completed before August 18.

Federal Officials Map Plans To Relieve Farm Help Shortage

The farm labor shortages already existing in some sections of the country probably will be even more extensive in 1943, the department of agriculture has announced.

Even though production is increasing to record figures, this is still not enough food. Farmers of the nation must produce as they have never produced before.

That is why the future portends a growing shortage of farm labor.

To assist the nation's farmers, federal officials have been working on a plan by which farm labor from outside the United States will be made available.

The Mexican government has been approached with the plan of using farm laborers from that country when the supply of American farm labor has been depleted.

Both the U. S. and Mexico have reached the following terms concerning the hiring of Mexican labor for work on American farms:

1. Mexican workers will not be used to displace domestic workers.
2. Payment of transportation expense from point of origin of workers to employment centers in the U. S. and return will be provided.
3. At least three-fourths of the working days in the contract shall be provided.
4. The minimum wage will be 30 cents an hour, or the equivalent piece work rate, or based on the prevailing wages in the area being worked.
5. Adequate and sanitary housing conditions will be available.

It is expected that most of the Mexican labor so hired will be used in the cotton areas of the Southwest and the sugar beet areas of the West.

Besides this plan for aid to the farmers, the department of agriculture has undertaken other projects for assistance to them so that production will not only continue at a high level, but increase above that point.

In some cases farm operations in certain sections might be reorganized so that there will be a change in the type of crop, or crops, grown. Labor pooling—now taking place in a small way—might be carried on in a greater scale.

If there happens to be a definite shortage of farm workers in one state—for instance Minnesota—but a temporary, or seasonal, surplus in another state—maybe Missouri—to obtain help the farmer but need apply to the nearest U. S. employment service office. Through that office the necessary help will be solicited.

The transportation for the workers being brought in from distances will be paid for in full by the contracting farmer if the distance is under 200 miles. All distances above the 200 mile reckoning will be paid for through the FSA.

The War Manpower commission, in a recent move, has placed upon the department of agriculture the responsibility of helping avert shortages of farm labor by housing and transporting seasonal farm workers needed.

The farmers of the nation today are doing all they possibly can to supply the ever mounting demand for their product. The department of agriculture is doing all it can to assist the farmer in his program of supplying more and more, and still more.

Meeks Bay

Mrs. Charles Heller of Meeks Bay was hostess Saturday afternoon to a group of friends who had received invitations in the mail to attend a dessert bridge. The occasion was a surprise shower for Miss Violet Lindenfeld of Los Angeles, who recently announced her engagement to Theodore Vallette of Chicago.

The tables and appointments were very attractive in pastel colors of pink and blue. Mah-Jong, contract and auction bridge were the games enjoyed. High honors were won by Mrs. Harold LaForge of Sacramento for contract, Mrs. N. F. Morgan of Altadena for auction and Mrs. W. J. Paquet of Los Angeles for mah-jong.

After the presentation of awards, a decorated tea-cart, laden with gifts was placed before the honoree and came as a complete surprise.

Those attending were Mesdames Effie Kehlet, Judy Maher, Blanche Paquet, Isabel Gerry, H. A. Nichols, Ina Hollenbeck, N. J. Lindenfeld, Veda Watson, Lorraine Mullens, Marjorie LaForge, Alice Kehlet, Violet Lindenfeld, Mary Morgan, Homer Palmer, O. R. Johnson, Louise Geier, Pearl Kehlet, Clara Baker, Helen Cook, Minnie Lane and Walter Dow.

The H and W club of Meeks Bay held a basket supper on their regular meeting night Monday and the auctioneer was Charles Heller. The proceeds were for the club's general fund. Bingo was enjoyed by the group, the award going to Miss Hulda Schaeffer. The next meeting of the club will be September 14th.

Mrs. Floyd Carnell who recently left Tahoe to reside in Albany, entertained with a birthday party for her son Howard. Six new friends enjoyed delicious refreshments and later the group attended the theater.
